What we're looking for:

- Masters degree in counselling psychology, clinical psychology, or social work
- An interest and willingness to integrate a relational and emotion focused lens into your psychotherapy work (we accept counsellors working from all theoretical orientations)
- Registration with an appropriate association or college: RCC, CCC, RSW
- At least 3 years experience in the psychology or helping field
- Experience with or an interest in seeing perinatal clientele (prenatal and postpartum mood, anxiety and adjustment issues)
- Strong ability to work with a broad range of clinical issues (e.g. anxiety, depression, self-worth, trauma, life transitions, grief, relationships)
- Preference for those willing to do some evening and/or weekend work
- Strong preference for those with experience and training in couples counselling
- Availability for both in-person and virtual counselling is required
- Availability to see 6-12 clients per week

What we offer:

- The opportunity to work in-person or virtually, and the flexibility to create your own schedule
- Monthly group clinical consultation and/or professional development workshops

- A steadily growing referral base
- Opportunity to join a community of warm, motivated, and bright therapists
- Marketing materials: professional headshots, videos, and business cards
- Administrative support: reception, online booking, billing and client care
- A fully furnished office space that is WorkSafe BC approved for in person counselling (large enough to distance 2+ metres, windows that open, and a HEPA air filter)
- Opportunities to develop groups, workshops and content
- Regular team events throughout the year to cultivate community and connection
- A competitive fee split

Please send a copy of your CV and cover letter outlining your areas of practice, experience, and what you bring to our team to connect@openspacecounselling.ca.

Short-listed candidates will be contacted for an interview on an ongoing basis.
